

Electroglide

March 2010

At last the weather cooperated. This Saturday gave us a view of what future Saturdays will look like this Spring and Summer. This was a day to keep tourists out of our town -- too many of them return to take up residence! As a San Diego resident for over 70 years, I can remember back to high school days and our often used mantra, "Tourists go home, but leave your daughters"! Sorry! If any of you are in business or real estate, please forgive my remarks.

Anyway.....what a day! On the first toss, a few of the pilots found lift to the east of the field. Two of them "maxed out" to avoid the 15 minute time limit with Tom Erickson recording a 13 minute, 41 second flight with a 30 point landing, and Bob Anson recording a 14 minute, 16 second flight with a 20 point landing! Great flying, Gentlemen!

The next two tosses found a number of the pilots flying in the same area east of the field, but none of them found anything to equal the thermal activity of the first flight. Norm Arndt came the closest with an 11 minute, 54 second flight with a 20 point landing. All in all, a truly Radian Day!

Weather's improving! Plan on the next Electroglide, April 17th! First toss at 9:30!

San Diego Electroglide

Randy Ritter	Handsell, DuelSky outrunner, on 3c	51	79 (20)	66 (10)	196
Stelio Jackson	E-Flite Ascent, 28x16 outrunner, on 2c	45 (20)	30	25	100
Zeke Mazur	Lil Bird on 2c (wing fractured on the second toss)	22			22

Standard Class Electroglide

all pilots flying stock Radians

Bob Anson	116 (20)	82 (30)	84 (10)	282
Norm Arndt	48	92 (20)	83 (20)	223
Tom Erickson	112 (30)	52 (20)	47 (20)	211
Michael Royer	48 (10)	58 (10)	28	134
Terry Thomann	26	46 (10)	41 (20)	113